PETITION FOR SAFER MEAT

To the Members of the United States Congress:

As a consumer I am concerned about the safety of the meat supply. Please take a stand for public health by co-sponsoring the Meat and Poultry Pathogen Reduction and Enforcement Act of 2003 (S. 1103/H.R. 2203), introduced first in March 2002, also know as Kevin's Law.

I want the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) to be able to set and enforce standards for harmful bacteria in meat and poultry products, such as E.coli* O157:H7, which can be deadly to young children, and Listeria monocytogenes, which can cause miscarriages.
S. 1103/H.R. 2203 would address my concerns.

Please co-sponsor the Meat and Poultry Pathogen Reduction and Enforcement Act of 2003.
